Adding pictures to your blog postings!

1. Make sure you know the basics:

- Do you have a blogger account set up?
- Have you ever published a post?
- Have you published comments?

If you answered yes to all of these questions, you are ready to learn how to blog with photos!

2. Setting up a Flickr account:

There are several online tools you can use to help you post photos to your blog. The one I am familiar with is flickr. To set up an account go to: <http://flickr.com>. Click on "Sign up Now". Create your account and sign up.

3. Uploading Photos: Photos must already be saved to your computer

- Visible to Family
- Public

UPLOAD

A. After logging in, select the upload option.

Select the "Browse..." button and navigate to where the photos are stored on your computer (desktop or on your HD in your photo folder). You can upload up to 6 photos at a time. You can enter a tag for the photos or not (I don't use tags). For privacy, the photos must be public. Then click upload.

I have selected my pictures folder on the HD of my computer.

B. After uploading your photos you can give each a title (please use only students' first names). At this point you do not need to write a description. Then click save.

4. Linking your account to your Blog:

You should be on the “Your Photos” web page where you can see all of your uploaded photos. Scroll down to the bottom of the page. Look under “Your Account” select “Account Page”. Scroll down to “Blogging” select “your blogs”.

Add a weblog

What kind of weblog do you have?

Blogger Blog

You want to add a weblog. You have a Blogger Blog. Click next. Enter your BLOGGER user-name and password, click next. Confirm the information and click “All done”.

5. Posting your Photo to your Blog:

6. Did it work?

Check your blog page - your photo and text should be posted. If you do not see it, try refreshing the screen.
