Note: Classes will be a combination of synchronous (in real time) and asynchronous (at separate, various times) teaching & learning experiences. Your student will have a variety of experiences in their classes, and no two classes will look exactly the same.

The teacher will be designing learning and structuring class time to provide:

- whole class learning
- small group learning and collaboration
- asynchronous (individual, not online and not at the same time as others) activities
